100% Pure New Zealand

Climate

Rugby World Cup 2011 will take place in the New Zealand Spring – expect daytime temperatures between 15-20c and 8-10c at night – as a long country it does have large variations but it is a great climate for travelling and Rugby!

Stunning Landscapes

Many major films use this dramatic scenery as backdrops – the awesome landscapes in New Zealand are all close to each other with the Spectacular glaciers, picturesque fiords, rugged mountains, vast plains, rolling hillsides, subtropical forest, a volcanic plateau, miles of coastline with gorgeous sandy beaches - it's all here and you'll get to experience it.

Sporting Nation

New Zealand has a unique and dynamic culture but underlying all of this is a love for the national sport – Rugby. The nation lives and breathes all the International matches and the disappointment at recent defeats in this competition means a huge level of expectation for Rugby World Cup 2011.
