Event Seating: International Event ticket Categories represent the ticket category. There are up to five different price categories for RWC 2011 tickets depending on venue. Not all price categories are available at each venue. Category A is considered to be the best seating option, with Category B being next and then Category C/D. GA category is for standing positions on either terraces or grass embankments. Tickets from any category guarantee you a seat within that category.

Match Seating: Global sponsors and the official hospitality program will have priority on Category A and B seating during Rugby World Cup 2011. It is important to understand that the stadiums in New Zealand are much smaller than previous Rugby World Cup Tournaments. This will also add to the shortage of available tickets for most major matches.
